TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary.

$23 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Hemical Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.
DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 628 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where all old patients and those requiring his services may find him.
The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.
Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the duties of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.
Seminal Weakness.
Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz.: Hollow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, bluster of face, loss of confidence, fulness in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, unquenchable thirst, frequent urination, if relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of the complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.
LADIES! LADIES!
Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.
DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.
CURED AT HOME.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to DR. GIBBON, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Post Office Box 1957, San Francisco, Cal., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.
All communications strictly confidential.
Caution to the Unfortunate.
Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are fraudulent, and became history too weak at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many years of regret, as the advertising medicine in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.
Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 628 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,057.
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.
Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read this advertisement in the Daily Oregonian jy6d&p1

The Demand for Political Honesty.

It is interesting to note the improvement in the moral tone of the political press through out the country, since the close of the Presidential campaign Save the local squabbles in Alabama Louisiana and Arkansas, there is scarcely a word said about the status of the different parties in any part of the nation And as questions of this nature have sunk out of sight their place in current journalism has been filled by the discussion of public matters from a higher standpoint than that of merely partizan interest With few exceptions the great political newspapers which only a short time ago bent all their energies to the one purpose of securing the triumph of the party which they, respectively represented now join in the general demand for a higher standard of political morals Nor do they hesitate to enforce their demand by using, for the purpose of illustration and example, the names of men high in the ranks of either party who have compromised their honor for money as in the Credit Mobilier and scandal, or for place as in the Caldwell and Pomeroy cases and a dozen others Only a few journals are exceptions and not one of these so far as we have been able to learn, but is under the control of the corruptionists themselves The party press of the country, except where it is the mere echo of some successful political scoundrel or the instrument and organ of a political ring, speaks out promptly and in no equivocal terms of the growing disregard of all moral principle in the conduct of politicians Among the fearless Republican journals that have stood in the van of all the late contests and which now deprecate the degeneracy of the times and the corruption that walks abroad in all parties, demanding that a higher standard be erected, are the Boston Advertiser, St Louis Democrat, Philadelphia Press, New York Times and many others in the Eastern States and all the leading Republican papers of California These speak out in the interest of that high political honor which characterized the public life, and marked the political course of the great Senators of the last generation Little will it avail the common wealth that the party in power has a platform in which are formulated the best and safest political principles that have been ever elevated by the experience, observation and reflection of a century of Republican institutions, if there is no longer any virtue in the men who lead the political movements of the hour. A political party that has no conscience in it, may about as well be founded upon false maxims as true, so far as concerns the welfare of the country it rules. It is no more fit to govern the nation, than a man who has a more heartless intellectual belief in the Bible is fit to be a ruler in the Church

So long had the exigencies of party politics stifled the political conscience of the country, and so greatly had the influence of wealth in the public affairs of the nation increased during that period of party strife, that when the country at last awoke suddenly to a realization of the situation, the whole people stood appalled in presence of the danger that threatened them. The press north and south, east and west, took up the alarm and is now sounding it from every city, town and hamlet in the land.

"Ill fares the land to hastening ills a prey,
Where wealth accumulates and men decay"

It has begun to look as if Goldsmith prophesied concerning America.

Whether any action of Congress can purify the atmosphere of the national capitol, may be doubted It is but poor morality at best that is secured by such means. The remedy lacks much of going to the root of the matter A more radical reformation than legal enactments, may be required to save the country from the moral "pestilence that walketh in darkness and the destruction that wasteth at noonday" But this legislative discipline is so much It will make corruption less prevalent by making it dangerous to give or to accept a bribe. Something is gained when it becomes understood that no man can hold an office which he has obtained by dishonest means. But the reform will not be complete till all corruption in any place from the primary meetings to the highest official position shall be considered infamous, not legally only, but socially—privately as well as publicly. To the bringing about of this reform the great journals of the country are now devoting themselves

Senator Wilson has introduced in the Senate a bill, in response to numerous memorials issued by the National Temperance Society, which provides for the appointment of a commission of inquiry concerning the results of the legalized traffic in intoxicating liquors, of restrictive and prohibitory legislation for the suppression of intemperance in Maine, Massachusetts, and other States, and to recommend what additional legislation, if any, by Congress, would be beneficial to promote in the sphere of national authority all intoxicating liquors as a beverage; the commission to consist of five gentlemen who shall serve without salary, but be authorized to employ a secretary and report the result of their investigations to the President, to be by him transmitted to Congress Hon William E Dodge, A W Powell, and others will shortly have a hearing in behalf of the proposed commission

The Poland Committee (Senate) was appointed to investigate complaints which charged that certain members of Congress had illegally dabbled in stocks of the Credit Mobilier. The Wilson Committee (House) was appointed to inquire into the management of the Union Pacific Railway This latter in the course of its investigations happened upon some testimony which seriously affected Mr Harlan's character as a Senator They commenced a thorough inquiry into the matter The Senate became indignant, and we hear that several Senators consider the action of the House Committee a breach of courtesy' It is to be hoped that the Wilson Committee will not abridge their labors from any false delicacy.

It will be remembered that Geo Francis Train, when out here some time ago, stated that Thos C Durant while Vice President of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, paid Thaddeus Stevens $75,000 for services for the company in Congress Mr Durant in his testimony before the Credit Mobilier committee testifies that he never gave Mr Stevens a dollar for any purpose whatever If anybody believed Train's story, this statement of Durant will serve to set the matter right and do justice to the name of the 'great commoner' of Pennsylvania

Bret Harte denies that he is the laziest man in the world, but admits he doesn't see the use of rushing around when his boarding house isn't on fire

The Established Church in England is just now greatly agitated over the appointment of Cardinal Cullen and Archbishop Manning to Her Majesty's Privy Council As the office of Privy Councillor is neither subject to the vicissitudes of a portfolio in the Ministry nor liable to the inquisitory action of Parliament but dependent alone on the grace of the monarch this action of the Queen is thought to possess considerable significance as to the policy of the Crown But a short time ago a Roman Catholic received the appointment of Postmaster General of the kingdom and almost simultaneously another was appointed Lord Chancellor of Ireland

The House Judiciary Committee have the evidence in the case of Delahay District Judge in Kansas, nearly arranged It shows excessive extravagance in the use of the public funds and the virtual distribution of large sums among many officers of his court In one conflagration case nearly $30 000 was practically divided among the officers It is not certain that articles of impeachment will be presented owing to a want of time

Dr Joshua Leavitt a veteran newspaper publisher, and one of the editors of the New York Independent died of apoplexy, on the evening of Thursday, January 16th Dr Leavitt has been long known as the projector of the Boston Emancipator but chiefly as an author of several masterly treatises on Free Trade, for one of which he was awarded the Cobden medal in New York two years ago

The enterprise of bringing the water of the Santiam river into Albany by a canal is to be pushed forward to completion This is one of the most important improvements ever undertaken in the State When it is finished no town in Oronon will be better adapted to the building up of manufactories than Albany

Secretary Belknap has urged the House to pay the heirs of Jas B Ely a royalty of twenty cents on each of the 124,341 breech loading muskets manufactured at the Springfield armory. Ely a patent is used by the government in the mechanism of the breech of the Allen musket

Governor Oglesby has been elected United States Senator from Illinois, but before his election, the Democrats and Liberal Republicans protested against the action as unconstitutional and void Layman Trumbull was nominated by acclamation by the latter

The Washington Chronicle says that as soon as the House passes the appropriation of $50,000 for the issue of the new postal cards, the Postmaster General will immediately commence work upon them and issue them as rapidly as possible.

The Boston Advertiser of Jan 17th says that Gen Banks is in Kentucky where it is reported he is negotiating for a prominent position in railroad management upon which he can depend at the expiration of his term in Congress.

We are informed that the Secretary of the Interior has named Samuel Case, formerly sub agent at the Alsea Reservation, and Hon Josse Applegate, of Yoncalla, as commissioners to settle the Modoc troubles.

All respectable members of the legal profession will be glad to learn that Lee, the Shyster who attempted to tamper with a juror in a San Francisco court, has been convicted. Such creatures are out of place when out of prison.

It is understood that Senator Patterson of New Hampshire, has accepted the Presidency of the Ohio State Agricultural College

The creed of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is embraced in these thirty nine articles

We believe it to be our duty

TO STOP

the beating of animals, overloading, overdriving, underfeeding, driving galled and disabled animals, tying calves' and sheep's legs, confining in railroad stock trains, overloading horse-cars, neglect of shelter for animals, plucking live fowls, dog fights, vivisection without anæsthetics, the use of tight check reins, bleeding calves, clipping dogs' ears and tails, bagging cows

TO INTRODUCE

better roads and pavements, better methods for slaughtering, better methods of horseshoeing, improved cattle cars, drinking fountains, better laws in every State, our paper in Sabbath Schools and among children children to be humane, teachers to teach kindness to animals, clergymen to preach it, authors to write it, editors to keep it before the people, drivers and trainers of horses to try kindness, owners of animals to feed regularly, people to protect insectivorous birds, boys not to molest birds nests, men to take better care of stock, everybody not to sell their old family horses to owners of tip carts, people of other States to form societies, men to give money to forward the cause, ladies to interest themselves in the work, people to appreciate the intelligence and virtues of animals. And generally to make men, women and children better, because more humane.

TO INDUCE

Interesting Table

The United States Treasury Department has just caused to be published an interesting compilation of figures The table shows that the business of the Government during the last nine years has been greater and the receipts larger than during the whole existence of the Government previously The following statement illustrates this

The New York Daily Bulletin contains an elaborate table showing the transactions in twenty seven of the leading stocks at the New York Stock Exchange during the year 1872 The magnitude of these transactions in enormous Pacific mail was the most active commodity on the list, the sales of which during the year aggregate 55 times the amount of its capital stock, which is twenty millions of dollars Erie common stock sold 8 1 3 times its total amount Western Union Telegraph, 20½ times Northwestern common, 37 times, Union Pacific, 15 times, Lake Shore, 8¼ times, New York Central 8 times the total amount of its stock The total sales of the stock of twenty seven principal companies were fifty four million shares, representing a money value of about $3 860 000,000, estimating the stocks to be worth an average of 70 cents on the dollar The total par value of the capital stock of these twenty seven companies is $578 871 512 The capital of the New York Central railroad is the largest of any corporation in the country, being $89 128 330 The commissions of the stock brokers in the sale and purchase of these fifty four million shares are estimated to amount to $6 865 000 or about $7 000 to each member of the stock board

Important Telegraph Reduction

The Western Union Telegraph Company announces that on and after February 1st, the highest charge for a ten word message between any of its offices in America will be two dollars and fifty cents

The Company has long had this great and important reduction under consideration, and its inauguration will give the Pacific coast the advantages of the cheapest telegraphic rates under any private or postal telegraphic system in the world, and lower than the tariff contemplated under the proposed United States postal telegraph schemes now being agitated. The Western Union and other private telegraph companies in this country make no charge for the date, address and signature of a message, but the postal telegraph contemplates adopting the European method of charging for every word transmitted, fixing the charge for twenty-five words as the minimum rate for any message, and charging one cent per word for each section of two hundred and fifty miles In other words, the lowest rates will be twenty five cents for each 250 miles of distance, or $3 25 from San Francisco to New York, Washington and Philadelphia, and $4 25 from Portland, Oregon, to either of the places named, whereas the Western Union tariff between any of the points named—or even between more remote points, as, for example, Victoria, B C, and Portland, Me, or New Orleans—will be only $2 50 for twenty words, counted on the postal telegraph plan, because the number of words used in the date, signature and address averages ten words for each message

The Western Union Company has steadily adhered to the policy during several years of extending its lines to every section of the country which would pay the bare working expense of a wire, and of reducing its tolls, from time to time, to the lowest point which would yield a fair profit, until the average tolls throughout the length and breadth of the United States are only about one-third of the rates in force when Mr Orton was elected to the Presidency of the Company in 1866, and compare favorably with European postal telegraph rates, distance, extent of territory and population considered, and in point of efficiency of service the American telegraph system is undoubtedly superior to any other in existence.

We learn that the Western Union Company has in contemplation other and important reductions of local rates, and if the liberal and politic management of past years is continued, and there is no reason for anticipating a change, the public will enjoy every advantage as to facilities and cheap rates promised by a Government telegraph, with the further advantage of superior efficiency, and of responsibility in extreme cases of damage arising from faults or carelessness —S F Bulletin

American vs English Boys —At Brighton, in Sussex, England, a beautiful gold cup is annually presented as a prize to the winner of a foot race which is open to all the schools of that place. The race is over a course of 100 yards in length, and creates great interest in the city, large crowds assembling every year to witness the contest This year it was made more than usually interesting by the offer of a cup valued at $250 gold to the winner of a course 250 yards long, by Juines Ashbury, of yachting notoriety, who lives at Brighton These two races come off this fall, but, unfortunately for English pride, in two of the schools are two little boys born on this side of the Atlantic—Yankees, they call them—Willie and Harry Homans, grandchildren of the late Hon William Parmalee, of Albany, whose father is residing in England for business purposes Twenty schools were represented in the race, and twenty-seven boys started in the race of 100 yards, which was won by the "Yankee" Willie Homans, his brother Harry second, beating all the English competitors. This was a severe mortification to the papas and mammas of the other boys, but they consoled themselves with the reflection that it was a short race and no test of endurance,' hoping a different result in the long race of 250 yards which followed In this race, forty-two English boys started against the two Yankee brothers, but again the Stars and Stripes were triumphant, only this time Harry led and Willie was second, with the forty two English boys strung out in a long line behind them Imagine Mr Ashbury's 'phelnks' at the idea of his cup being won by an American boy

REPORT OF THE CHIEF ENGINEER.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Portland—GENTLEMEN: It being customary for the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department to embrace in his report upon the discharge of his duties, to make such recommendations as in his judgment he may deem necessary to render the Department more efficient, with this object in view and in accordance with the usual custom, I herewith present the following immediate requirements of the Department for your consideration

FIRST —ERECTION OF AND REPAIRS ON ENGINE HOUSES.

Willamette No 1—This company's house, as my immediate predecessor has already stated in his annual report, is wholly inadequate for the use and accommodation of the company. I would therefore recommend the purchase—or exchange, if practicable—of 25 feet in depth in rear of their present lot, raze the present building and erect a good and substantial building the full size of the lot I also recommend the purchase of a new bell for the use of this company their old one having been rendered worthless on last New Year's morning.

Multnomah, No 2—I fully concur with the report of my predecessor in regard to the condition of this company's house and recommend the erection of a permanent house for the use of this company on the site of their present house as soon as practicable

Columbian, No 3—This company's house is in good condition excepting the rear portion of the first floor, which is somewhat decayed and in need of some slight repairs

Protection No 4—The south wall of this company's house being exposed to the prevailing southern wind and rain, has become saturated, and is in need of a heavy coat of paint or tar to protect it from further injury

Vigilance Hook and Ladder Company, No 1—I can and do endorse to my predecessor's remarks in regard to this company's house further than that they are in need of a new house, and recommend the erection of one as soon as convenient This company having at the late fire lost some of their hooks and axes, should be immediately replaced

SECOND —ADDITIONAL HOSE.

There is at present in use of the Department about 3 500 feet of leather hose, one-half of which is in ordinary condition, and may be made available for use a length of time The remaining one half is almost worthless and wholly unreliable for service I would therefore recommend the purchase of 1,000 feet of carbolized hose for the use of the Department.

THIRD.—WATER SUPPLY.

The water supply, as now existing, is entirely insufficient for the use of the Department, as clearly demonstrated at the late disastrous fire Engines after being posted in advantageous positions had to be repeatedly removed from one cistern to another during the progress of the fire on account of the scarcity of the water supply thereby creating confusion and to a great extent impairing the efficiency of the Department This was not caused in consequence of any scarcity of water in the city, but on account of the small capacity of the supply pipes connecting the main pipes with the cisterns, being only one-half inch in diameter I must earnestly call your attention to this important matter, and recommend either the immediate removal of these small pipes and replace them with pipes at least two inches in diameter, and connect all the cisterns now disconnected with the main pipes or have a main of larger size than now used by the Water Company laid exclusively for fire purposes from the reservoir to Second street then along Second to F street and erect a number of hydrants along said street to supply the cisterns on First and Third streets The latter method although the most expensive, is, in my judgment the best and will readily afford a sufficient supply of water for the use of the Department for several years

FOURTH —FIRE ALARM SYSTEM

The best mode or system of fire alarm has been generally discussed among the firemen and the telegraph system is considered among a great many the most effective The great expense of establishing this system prohibits action in connection with the same at the present time, but I respectfully suggest as a substitute the erection of a bell tower in a central location and the city divided into five districts, as a more economical system and one that will in my opinion answer all the desired purposes for several years to come bringing the confusion somewhat caused by our present inefficient system

FIFTH —CORPORATE YARD

Your attention is earnestly called to the necessity of providing a commodious place in a central locality for the purpose of cleaning repairing and housekeeping the hose and other fire apparatus but right to the city—in other words, a Corporation Yard—and would suggest the old City Jail property as a suitable location to convert into such an institution, besides it would be a desirable location for the erection of the bell tower as above recommended The fires invariably at command of the Chief of Police could be made available to perform all work connected with the yard, without additional cost or expense to the city

In complying with the foregoing suggestions and recommendations I am well aware that it will involve a large expenditure of money but no more than the Department at present requires to make it effective With the facilities above recommended I am convinced I can satisfy all that our present efficient Department will be entitled to protect a recurrence of the seasons of the memorable 22d of December

All of which is respectfully submitted
W O BRUYN
Chief Engineer P F D

FRIDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 7, 1873

CITY.

WON HIS WAGER.—A novel wager was made yesterday between a certain broker who keeps his office not many yards from the corner of Washington and First streets, and a real estate dealer on Front street. To be more explicit, these parties were Mr. J. Pat Smith and Mr. H. B. Oatman. These gentlemen began good humoredly to banter each other about who could manipulate a buck saw across a piece of wood in the most artistic manner. As the question in controversy could not be satisfactorily settled without a practical trial, a wager of one dollar was made, and the contestants divested themselves of their outer garments and prepared to test each other's powers of endurance. A gang of Chinamen were engaged in sawing wood near the store of Messrs. Clarke, Henderson & Cook. One worthies took a large stick of hard wood and proceeded to saw off a portion. The scene attracted a large crowd of spectators who enjoyed the fun intensely. Each competitor was timed by Pat.'s gold chronometer. In consequence of possessing a greater amount of physical force, or being a more practised artist with the buck-saw and horse, Oatman severed the stick just two seconds quicker than his rival. Pat lost his dollar, the same which the victorious sawyer put in his pocket and walked away to the infinite amusement of the crowd, and the astonishment of the Chinamen.

THE STREET LAMPS.—For some time there has been great complaint in regard to the manner in which the oil lamps on the streets have been kept. Last Wednesday the matter came before the Common Council in a communication from a large number of citizens, calling the attention of that body to the deficiency of light. The communication was referred to the appropriate committee for investigation. We are informed by Mr. R. Hendrie, the contractor for lighting these lamps, that some parties have been in the habit of raiding on them of nights, turning them off, in some instances, and in others turning the woks up so as to smoke and blacken the chimneys. Mr. Hendrie claims that this, and not any inattention on his part, is the cause of the trouble. We do not pretend to possess any knowledge as to the cause, but we do know that for some reason, the oil lamps are little better than no light at all. If Mr. Hendrie's statement is correct, the despicable creatures who perpetrate the acts he mentions, should be ferreted out, and sent into the chain-gang with the crowd of other and less despicable characters who make up that company.

FOULWEATHER LIGHTHOUSE.—Major Robert returned from Cape Foulweather last week, where he went some time ago to officially inspect the work done on the lighthouse at that point. It was the expectation to have the lighthouse finished and the signal light displayed by the first of the present month, but some unavoidable delay occurred in the arrival of the castings necessary to be used about the lantern. Everything is in readiness except that portion of the work which the non arrival of the castings prevents being finished. A dispatch was forwarded to Washington immediately on the arrival of Mr. Robert at this place. He inquired into the occasion of the detention of the castings, and asked to have the same forwarded without delay. In answer, a dispatch was sent, stating that the required articles had been shipped as per orders. The boxes containing those castings are now on the way, and can be expected to arrive by the last of this month. Two weeks' work will suffice to put the lighthouse in perfect condition for service after the arrival of the castings.

ATTEMPTED INCENDIARISM.—We are informed that an attempt was made on Wednesday night by some unknown person to burn the new Central school house. A number of carpenters have been engaged during the week in putting the seats and desks in position in the main school room. Most of the desks were wrapped in strong coarse paper. As a natural result, the floor of the room was thickly strewn with the wrapping paper. Some would be incendiary by means unknown effected an entrance to the large room. Quantities of the paper were gathered in a heap near the middle of the room, and after being saturated with oil, were ignited. The incendiary either supposed the paper sufficient to set the building on fire, or else was alarmed and hastily withdrew, before he had time to add any more combustible material. The paper was consumed, and nothing but a heap of black ashes revealed to the workmen the following morning that a nefarious attempt to destroy the building was made.

WELL TO LOOKOUT.—We are informed that there are several suspicious looking characters about the city, whose principal occupation consists in dogging the footsteps of small girls. Complaints have reached us in several instances where young girls who have occasion to traverse the streets after dark, have been persistently followed by some of these designing scoundrels. It might be well to add by way of caution that these fellows who have so much painful leisure on hands that they are at a decided loss to know how to spend their time, and adopt the above questionable sport for recreation, should keep a sharp eye about them. To persist in such pastime might court an application of rawhide, or a small quantity of salem meal, at the hands of irate brothers or fathers.

SCHOOL HOUSE DEDICATED.—The new Central school house is nearly completed and ready for the reception of pupils, and will be formally dedicated to the purposes of education on Monday evening next. Extensive arrangements are being made by the School Directors, to have the event celebrated in the most appropriate manner possible, and the exercises on the occasion conducted on a style in keeping with the character of the affair. Hon. J. F. Caples has been chosen as orator of the evening. The exercises will consist of the address, singing, instrumental music, etc. Prof. McGibeny has been training a large class of 100 schoolars who will sing on the occasion. It is safe to predict from the preparations being made, that the event will prove one of the grandest affairs of the kind which has ever taken place in the city.

CHAIR PRESENTED.—Last evening, during the election of officers at Williamette Co. No. 1, the members of the Hose Company came into the room in a body and formally presented to the fire company a large, handsome arm chair for the use of the presiding officer. The presentation speech was made by W. W. Gibbs, which was most happy and appropriate. Mr. John P. Walker, the retiring President, responded in behalf of the Company, in a few neat remarks in which he gratefully accepted the substantial token from the hands of the hose boys.

A PLEASANT TIME.—At the conclusion of the election of officers by Multnomah Engine Co. No. 2, last evening, a cold lunch was spread in the engine room. Members and invited guests crowded around the festive board and discussed the viands with a hearty gusto. Beer flowed freely and all joined in the pleasant conversation and were participants in the conviviality of the occasion. Speeches, toasts and general good feeling was the special order of the evening.

BONDS FORWARDED.—Mr. Fairchild, of this city, who received the appointment, a few weeks since, as Indian Agent of the Siletz reservation, once Gen. Palmer resigned, has prepared his bonds and forwarded the same to Washington on Monday. He will be notified immediately by telegraph of the acceptance of his bonds, and has completed his arrangements to assume charge of the reservation when such intelligence is received.

GONE TO THE DALLES.—Mr. Holland and seven or eight carpenters went to the Dalles for last Tuesday, to commence work on the cabin of the new steamer at that place. A considerable portion of the upper works has been finished at this place and forwarded by boat to the Dalles. Work will be prosecuted without cessation on the cabin until the steamer is ready to launch, which will be about the middle of March.

HELD TO ANSWER.—A man named A. Jubits was examined before U. S. Commissioner R. Wilcox, on Wednesday last. He was charged with having failed to procure the required license to manufacture and sell beer. After an examination of the case, the Commissioner held the defendant to answer the charge in the sum of $200.

DEGREE LODGE.—The subject is now being agitated, we learn, among the several Odd Fellow Lodges of the city, of the institution of a Degree Lodge. The subject is received with much favor among the Brotherhood, and there is good reason for believing that the effort will be crowned with success.

PORTLAND ACADEMY.—The next term of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary will begin on Monday the 10th instant.

THE MASQUERADE.—The Committee delegated to report progress in the matter regarding the Masquerade Carnival, failed to report at the meeting of the Turn Verein last evening. A special meeting will be held next Wednesday evening, when it is expected the Committee will give their report.

AT ANCHOR.—When the steamer Josie McNear came up the river yesterday, she passed the bark Fenning and schooner Katie Heron a short distance below Rainier. Both vessels were lying at anchor, waiting for a favorable breeze or a tug to bring them up to this city.

PRAISE MEETING.—The regular Praise Meeting will be held at the M. E. Church in East Portland on Sunday next, commencing at 2 P. M. An interesting programme, consisting of singing, recitations, etc., is in course of preparation.

AFFIRMED.—We learn that the Supreme Court, now in session at Salem, in the case of G. A. Steel, app., vs. Wm. Masters, resp., appealed from Multnomah county, has affirmed the judgment of the Court below, by which Mr. Masters is duly authorized to act as Treasurer of this county.

DRYING SAILS.—The bark Caribou had most of her sails unfurled yesterday, availing of the stray streaks of sunshine to dry out the well soaked canvas. The damage sustained by the rigging of this vessel will shortly be repaired, and the lost portion of the foremast replaced.

UP THE COLUMBIA.—Work is still progressing on the channel of the Upper Columbia. No direct word has been received from the contractor as to the operations, for some weeks. Capt. West is at present superintending the work at the several points where operations are in progress.

FIRST PRIZE.—Mr. Jos. Reilly was the fortunate winner of the first prize drawn at the German festival on Wednesday evening. The prize was a large, handsome oil painting of Yosemite Falls, and is valued at $200.

DESERTERS.—We learn that several sailors deserted from the barks now in port. The officers are on their track and will probably soon succeed in overhauling the fugitives.

AT ASTORIA.—The ship Whittington, bark Mendelssohn and Free Trade, were still detained at last accounts at Astoria, unable to pass out to sea.

FIREMEN'S ELECTION.

Pursuant to the law regulating the Fire Department of Portland, the members of the several fire companies assembled last evening at their respective engine houses to elect officers who are to serve for the ensuing year. As before stated, each company is required to elect a Foreman, First and Second Assistants, President, Secretary Treasurer, and three persons who are to represent the Company in the Board of Fire Delegates. The following are the names of such officers elected by the different companies composing the Department:

THE GERMAN BALL.

The ball given last evening by the German Benevolent Society in aid of their hospital, was one of the most pleasing parties of the season. The terpsichorean festival was held in the Masonic Hall. The profusion of evergreens, the quantity of bunting, the numerous rosettes which contrasted with the pea-jacket and thick volume of light displayed from several chandeliers, made a most picturesque, even brilliant scene which attracted the attention of all present. A large flag—the starry emblem—was suspended over the stage, between a triangular wreath of evergreens, and bore on it the initials of the Society, "G. B. S.," and beneath those the word "Onward" in golden letters was quite prominent. The sides of the hall was a mass of fir, and the spaces between it and the walls were set apart as reception rooms, where the worshippers of the Muse could enjoy the nectar of Gambrinus, Bacchus or Queen Mab, according to fancy. Over the side decorations several pictures were suspended, the most conspicuous of which was the painting of the Yosemite valley by Mr. Protzdit. At half-past nine o'clock, the hall began to fill, and half an hour later, eighty couples at least were present. The dancing was mainly confined to waltzes, schottisches and polkas, the favorites of the Teutons, and for which they are famous. The movements represented the old fashioned "hop time," and the more graceful glide of the modern worshippers.

The music was furnished by Cordes' band, and was all that could be desired both in time and melody. Prof. Graham, the terpsichorean orator, presided over the movements of the quadrilles, and for display showed what life could be infused into a throng by his sleigh-ride polka with the melody of bells. The party, in its general character, was all that could be desired, and displayed thoroughly the military precision, docility and obedience of the German race.

THE COURTS.

COUNTY COURT—HAMILTON, J.

AMUSEMENTS.

There was a happy crowd at the ball of Baker Post, G. A. R., last evening, "tripping the light fantastic." Those present had every reason to feel satisfied with the way affairs were carried on.

The "Young People's Social Club" tendered a subscription party in aid of the "Home" and the offer has been accepted by the managers of that institution. The affair will take place on the evening of the 21st at Masonic Hall.

PERSONAL.

Capts. Barber and Purdy, of the Mendelssohn and Whittington, respectively, were in the city last evening.

GLORIOUS NEWS! GLORIOUS NEWS!—The popular and largest Clothing House in the State escaped the great fire, and will therefore sell for the next sixty days their goods at such low rates as to give all a chance to invest, rich or poor. Call and satisfy yourself, as we mean what we say above, and no humbug about it.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.

Our regular correspondent from Oregon City sends the following items of interest from that place:

The dull monotony which has existed in this place during the past two or three weeks was somewhat relieved by a report in circulation yesterday, that an attempt had been made the previous night to burglarize the Court House, failing in which an attempt was made on Hon. J. Myer's store. In both instances it is believed that the would be burglars were alarmed and desisted on ascertaining to their satisfaction that there was somebody sleeping in close proximity to the scene of their operations, who would probably be awakened by the noise necessary to force open iron shutters. The marks of fresh cuts made by a cold chisel close to the hinge of the iron window shutters in the rear of the Court House, were plainly discernible, and as this window opens into the County Clerk and Sheriff's office, where is the county safe, the inference is plain. In connection with this circumstance the presence in our community of two individuals well known to our City Marshal as lately discharged convicts from the Salem Penitentiary, has prompted every store keeper and householder in the city to look well to the barring of their doors, and to the caps of their revolvers, also the strictest surveillance is exercised on every movement of the gentlemen referred to.

This evening, No. 2's boys, the Cataracts, give a grand ball which promises to be the affair of the season. We hope to see a delegation of your Portland "boys," who, having been invited and notified, will no doubt govern themselves accordingly. And next on the programme is a grand German ball, to be held on the evening of St. Valentine's Day, the 14th inst., on which occasion we are to be regaled with the delightful music of the Dutchtown brass band in full force. Who ever knew a German ball to be a failure? That this will be no exception is guaranteed by the reputation of those interested in getting it up.

The woolen factory not being in operation, and business generally about as dull as the weather, the "boys" fall back on their own resources for fun and amusement. On Tuesday evening several young ladies and gentlemen, as amateurs, favored the citizens with a really creditable performance at Myer's Hall, of a three act drama, called The Spirit of '76, or the Coming Woman, closing with the farce of The Freedom of the Press. The Methodist Sunday school library was the beneficiary. The hall was crowded and the audience retired extremely well pleased.

Protracted meetings in the Baptist Church have just been closed, having been maintained steadily for three weeks. The Rev. Mr. North, the pastor, assisted by Revs. Medbury, Addison Jones and Russe on various occasions, conducted the meetings. The attendance has been very large, and there is every reason to believe that a spirit of religious interest and inquiry now pervades the community to a great extent.

Mr. Thirkelson, the contractor for the rebuilding of the woolen mills, is here to-day making preliminary arrangements for commencing active operations, which he thinks will be during next week.

The steamer Calliope is making regular trips through the canal and locks without hindrance. The average time occupied in the transit does not exceed 30 minutes.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

PERSONAL, LOCAL AND GENERAL.

[From the Advocate.]

Rev. Bishop Peck, D. D., will preside at the next session of the Oregon Conference. The time of its sitting will be determined at the meeting of the Board of Bishops in April.

Rev. M. C. Briggs, D. D., of Evanston, Ill., has been selected to deliver the annual address before the Deltatan-Delta Society which meets in Akron, Ohio, vice Rev. Stephen Bowers, prevented by his removal to this coast.

At the second quarterly love feast of the Taylor Street M. E. Church for this conference year, held on Monday evening last, eleven persons, nearly all of them promising young men, joined the Church on probation, and one by letter. The meetings are continued at noon-day and each evening with indications of growing interest.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Yesterday we called at the new office of the Home Shuttle Sewing Machine in the Odd Fellows' Temple, corner First and Alder streets, which is fitted up in splendid style. Mr. Traver and his assistant were busy filling orders for this popular machine, which has reached, what seems to be, the point of perfection among sewing machines, improvements having been made from time to time, containing all that can be desired for a family machine. From the supply an exhibition in the large sale room—three times the size of the old office on Front street occupied before the fire—we conclude that the Home Shuttle still continues to lead its competitors.

ONCE MORE ON THE TRACK.—C. M. Martin has settled down to "biz" again. He occupies that commodious room at the northeast corner of First and Yamhill streets. Of course, it is understood that the stock of Groceries he has opened is large and excellent in every particular. If you can't get what you want at his place, then there is no use looking for the desired article. He will be ably assisted in awaiting upon the numerous customers that are sure to flock to his place to buy. Don't forget the new Store when you pass up First street to-day.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY is a "combination and a form indeed" for healing and curing diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. It cures a cough, by loosening and cleansing the lungs, and allaying irritation; thus removing the cause, instead of drying up the cough and leaving the disease behind.

Business men find it much more convenient to contract with an established Advertising Agency, like that of Geo. P. Rowell & Co., No. 41 Park Row, New York, than to make contracts direct with the publishers. They gain the advantage of dealing with one person instead of dozens or hundreds, while the cost is not increased.

Can any Medicine do More?

The art of changing the base metals into gold has not been discovered, but the happy results of a discovery infinitely more important are familiar to the community, and have been so for the past twenty years. To exchange debility for vigor, sickness for health, apathy for energy, gloom for cheerfulness, is a much more desirable operation than to transmute lead into the root of all evil. And this is what Hostetter's Stomach Bitters accomplish, and have been accomplishing daily, ever since their introduction. Dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, constipation, intermittent fevers, rheumatism, sick headache and general debility are no longer the bug bears that they were a fifth of a century ago. The Bitters, taken as a protective medicine, prevent them, and taken as a remedy cures them, and the people know it. Hence their overshadowing reputation and enormous sale. The fame of the great vegetable specific is ever on the march, and at a pace that no competitor can live. It is to-day the foremost medicine of its class in the civilized world. Every now and then attempts are made to rival it, and sometimes a nostrum connected in the idle hope of sharing its popularity, has a brief spurt of apparent success. But it is all illusion. One by one they sink like stones in the sea while the great tonic, whose celebrity has been the cause of these blind ventures, continues to ride on the topmost wave of public favor, unapproached and unapproachable.

Denver papers speak well of the working of the Holly water works in that city. Within three minutes after an alarm of fire, the works responded with a heavy head of water. So prompt and effective was the service done, that the Mayor of the city, by an official card, compliments the system.

A REMARKABLE FAMILY OF "SETTERS."—In Rhode Island, lately, a farmer was tugging away with all his might and main at a barrel of apples, which he was endeavoring to get up the cellar stairs, and calling at the top of his voice for one of his boys to lend him a hand, but in vain. When he, after an infinite amount of scolding and snuffing, accomplished the task, and just when they were not needed, the boys made their appearance. "Where have you been, and what have you been about, I'd like to know, that you did not hear me call?" inquired the farmer, in an angry tone, addressing the oldest. "Out in the shop, settin' the saw," replied the youth. "And you, Dick?" "Out in the barn, settin' the hen." "And you, sir?" "Up in the granny's room, settin' the clock." "And you, young man?" "Up in the garret, settin' the trap." "And now, Master Fred, where were you, and what were you settin'?" asked the old farmer of the youngest progedy, the asperity of his temper being somewhat softened by the amusing category of answers. "Come, let's hear?" "Out on the doorstep, settin' still!" replied the young hopeful, seriously. "A remarkable set, I must confess," added the sire, much amused, dispersing the grinning group with a wave of his hand.

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Who's to be Editor of the Tribune?
I, says the saycher Colfax
That my idle pen doth show lax,
Breaks slaughter like a pole axe
I'm the man to deal in cold facts
For ten thousand—green or gold backs,
I'm to be said Editor

Who's to be Editor of the Tribune?
I, says youngelus William Curtis'
What I'm able to execute
That so far as rebel dirt is Concerned, all clear my shirt is
I'm the man. And, cerize,
For sinews, cash or sworn thirtees,
My pen that now liver is
I'll dip in aqua fortis,"
Since I'm to be that Editor

Who's to be Editor of the Tribune?
I, says Whitelaw Reid
On, great Pegasus, my steed,
I charge the fallen Tweed
Of all his filthy breed,
That with a goul-like greed
On our credit's corpse did feed,
The metropolis I freed.
Of Reform I took the lead—
In the West, with ardent speed
Bent my way. And in the hour of need,
In Cincinnati sword the steel
Of a movement that decreed
Corruption's death Also the reed—
Oh, weaker still!—the weed—
We leaned on, broke—indeed
The time was past, I rede,
For "Liberal" virtue to succeed
Now I promised naught. I'm key'd
Up to honor's pitch I'll bleed
Before I'd ever draw a bead
In monopoly's defense. Give heed
To my words Oh, white haired Whitelaw Reid
Is content to be that Editor.

Who's to be Editor of the Tribune?
I, says yeapeasaver Bixtie'
Born Republican, I skin—
I'm that no room to feign
Truth, in the forum or in fane—
World fight, and fight again
Where long, with right and main
I've helped to pile the slain
On Democratic fields, 'mid rain
Of speech and ink, when rebel reign
Seemed imminent, and men gave rein
To coward impulses, and the stain
Of slavish fear wrought bane
In Northern hearts This brain
Did never yet refrain,
This heart did ne'er complain,
This hand did be or disdain
To think, feel, work—unheeding whether gain
Might crown my toil and pain
If I only could raise Cain
With that toothless gang No grain
Of self doth urge this suit. This strain
Of laudatory song doth drain
The deep foundations of my modesty O deign
To scan my motive justly. Ah, wane-ing sun, set fair! And rise on Blaine
So I may be that Editor.

Who's to be Editor of the Tribune?
I, says Mark Twain—
'Tis my Castle in Spain!
I'm the man for the place, though I cannot explain
Why; for the reason that Blaine
The recondite Radical Rep. from Chili Maine—
O, bothering, troublesome, itching chil-Blaine—
Has used all the words except rain and brain
That happily rhyme with Young Truly, Mark Twain.
So I offer no plea—merely pray that the seize
That is dragging for suitors the white inky main
May miss all the whales and catch this sardine—"
For I yearn to be that Editor.

A Sight of Carlyle.

I had imagined that the next best thing to seeing England would be to see Spotland; but as this latter pleasure was denied me, certainly the next best thing was seeing Scotland's greatest son. Carlyle has been so constantly and perhaps justly represented as a stormy and wrathful person, brewing bitter denunciation upon America and Americans, that I cannot forbear to mention the sweet and genial mood in which we found him—a gentle and affectionate grandfather, with his delicious Scotch brogue and rich melodious talk, overflowing with reminiscences of his early life, of Scott and Goethe, and Edinburgh, and other men and places he had known. Learning I was especially interested in birds, he discoursed of the lark and nightingale and mavis, framing his remarks about them in some episode of his personal experience, and investing their songs with double charm of his description and his adventure.

"It is only geese who get plucked there," said my companion after we had left—a man who had known Carlyle intimately for many years; "silly persons who have no veneration for the great man, and come to convert him or change his convictions upon subjects to which he has devoted a lifetime of profound thought and meditation. With such persons he has no patience."

Carlyle had just returned from Scotland, where he had spent the summer. The Scotch hills and mountains, he said, had an ancient, mournful look, as if the weight of immeasurable time had settled down upon them. Their look was in Ossian—his spirit reflected them, and as I gazed upon the venerable man before me and noted his homely and rugged, yet profound and melancholy expression, I knew that their look was upon him also, and that a greater than Ossian had been nursed amid those lonely hills. Few men in literature have felt the burden of the world, the weight of the inexorable conscience, as has Carlyle, or drawn such fresh inspiration from that source. However we may differ from him (and almost in self-defence one must differ from a man of such intense and overweening personality), it must yet be admitted that he habitually speaks out of that primitive silence and solitude in which only the heroic soul dwells. Certainly not in contemporary British literature is there another writer whose bow-string has such a twang.—"From London to New York," by John Burroughs, in February Galaxy.

Washington City revels in the prospect of an affair of honor Col. Don Piatt, editor of the Sunday Capital, lately published the following bit of irony in his "Social Gossip," which refers to the Italian Minister:

"COUNT CORTI.—Speaking of this learned (not Corti, but the Diplomatic Corps), we may as well give an item of news that has been of considerable interest to the fashionable and political world of Washington. Word got out that the Count was about to be recalled, and no language can tell the consternation that spread through all circles at the news. What the devil one can do without his Count Corti cannot be answered. He's such a winning, handsome, fascinating little fellow that all our belles are in despair, while Secretary Fish sends for Corti every fifteen minutes to advise with him on knotty questions of international law. When the complicated matter of the Alabama was agitating the gigantic intellect of Fish he would look around at intervals and say, 'Where is my Corti?' and finding him, would say with great earnestness, 'I feel safe.' On the contrary, when the Russian Minister, who secretly opposed the negotiations, saw Corti coming down the street he would say, 'here's h—l,' and immediately call for all the works on international law and six bottles of brandy. These are only a few instances illustrative of the Count Corti influence in Washington. They are enough. The way this thing got out, we learn, was through Assistant Secretary of State Hunter or somebody else. It seems that there are certain Italians, very reputable, nice people, but not diplomats, who object strenuously to Count Corti. They say in the first place, that he is a monk, and the second place, that he is ugly as Satan; in the third place, that he has no sense, in the fourth place, that he is not nice. Now, we hold all these to be vile slanderers, as we said in the beginning of our article, but the Count has saved us the trouble by contradicting all, and singular, the above allegations, except the one charging him with being a monk. We understand that he admits being a monk, and wants to know what of that so you don't put the cy to it. All this we understand has been discussed in the Italian papers, and the conclusion at home is generally that all of the Count Corti is not Apollo Belvidere is Talleyran, so that he is precisely the sort of man to represent sunny Italy in fogmistical America. So the Count will not be recalled, and we are glad of it, for if the Count were recalled we don't know what in the Old Scratch would become of us."

Forney's Press of the 15th, says:

In the Supreme Court of Ohio the case of the State of Ohio against the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company was decided yesterday, judgment of ouster being given against defendants as to being an Ohio corporation, and judgment in favor of defendants as to being a foreign corporation and having the right to operate the road in Ohio. The effect of this decision is in favor of the State, as it brings the company under the general legislation of Ohio.

"The exports of specie from all parts of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1872, amounted to $79 857,383 against $ 50,611,385 in 1871, but the foreign commerce of the country, shows a large balance against it, even when taking into account the freight paid to foreign ship owners It may be found a reason for the higher premium on gold which prevails now over a year ago For two years we have exported more of the precious metals than we have produced, and consequently less supply of them is coming down"

Construction of Vessels

Washington dispatches of a recent date furnished the intelligence that the House Committee has agreed to report favorably a bill providing for the construction of several vessels with an aggregate measurement of 9 000 tons. The bill provides that one-fifth of the number shall go on the Pacific, one fifth on the Gulf, and three fifths on the Atlantic coast, the builder to receive annuities as follows. On wooden ships, $12 a ton each year for five years, on iron ships $16 a ton for the same period. The only requirement is that these vessels shall constitute certain lines of transportation for the same period

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The week now under review has been one of more than usual quiet, notwithstanding the fact that we have had several arrivals of vessels to hand The exporters and producers, however, are apparently coming nearer together, and it is thought that another week will witness a revival in transactions. The quotations during the past few days have been steady at $1 65 @ coastal, which shippers will not go beyond, though millers have offered $1 70 for round lots of choice This offer was refused, though the same lot was held at only 2c on the bushel higher. From information obtained on the outside, we are led to believe that the exporters here command nearly or quite enough to complete the cargoes of the Barracouta, Victoria Cross Sarah Scott, Hannah Spragon and Heona, now in port, and that the Penang in the river and due here, will require the purchase of her cargo. This will be but a small quantity compared with the grow amount yet in the country, and cannot very extensively affect the market. There is a large amount now coming to tide water by rail and boats to load the vessels here The receipts to-day have been unusually heavy.

FLOUR—The stock on hand is hardly so large as last week, owing to the shipments made, but any active demand, except for local consumption, is out of the question with the low rates at present and the high freights prevailing at present We quote the market steady at $4 as per bbl for outside and country brands, and $5 50 for standard brands of extra. The local demand is only fair.

OATS—The market is rather duller than it was last week, with a seeming decline in both the receipts and demand. Shipments during the week have been small, and the supply on hand is about the average. We quote at 60 cents per bushel sacked as jobbers' paying prices.

FEED—The market is in rather better supply than at last advices, but rates are without any important change We quote the market firm at $15@19 per ton for bran, $27 50@30 for shorts, and $32@35 50 for chops, middlings, etc. The receipts have very perceptibly increased, as some of the mills, which ran light during the excitement in Wheat, have begun to grind greater quantities

BARLEY—The market is barren of offers except for local breweries, and prices have ruled quite steady during the entire season. Quotations are given nominally at $1 10@1 50 per 100 lbs.

HAY—We note large receipts with a consequential tendency downward in prices The demand is lessened owing to the nearness of spring, so that we now have quite a large supply in the market. Good Baled Timothy delivered out the season is quotable still at $16 to 18 per ton. Wild is almost unsaleable. Quoted at $8 to 10 per ton.

POTATOES—The supply is still large; the receipts for the past ten days having been considerably in excess of the demand: Prices are dull at 25c to 40c per bushel. Choice upland only command the latter figure from wagons, while inferior sorts are dull at the former figure.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—The market is tolerably well supplied by one or two of our State mills, and imports. Quotations are steady at 6½c per lb, in ten pound sacks, and 5½c per pound in fifty pound sks.

GRAHAM FLOUR—The jobbing rate is uniform with that of extra of standard brands of flour, which is quotable at $5 50 per bbl, of 200 lbs.

OAT-MEAL—We have no change to note. The market is firm at our former quotations of $5 50 to 6 per 100 pounds.

CORN MEAL—There is but little demand except for local consumption, and prices have weakened. We quote at from $2 25 to $3 00 per 100 lbs.

HOMINY—Quotations remain at $5 per 100 lbs. with a fair supply.

OILCAKE MEAL—Jobbing price is $40 per ton buying price and $45 selling. The supply is short. The Pioneer Oil Mills have also come in for lack of material and orders have been sent below for small lots.

APPLES—We note a fair demand and firm prices. Shippers pay from 75c to 90c per box for choice, while dealers buy from wagons miscellaneous lots at 60c to 60, the latter without boxes.

ONIONS—The demand is fair while the supply in hands is somewhat diminished. Quotations are given at 2 to 2½ cts per pound Considerable shipments have been made during the week.

BUTTER—Continued full receipts of common country, and a fair market in San Francisco keep prices here down to a very low figure, and we quote dealers paying prices for solid at 10@22 cts per pound, rolls, 18@23 cts; brine, 20@25 cts per pound; fresh for table use is supplied at about 40 cents per pound.

CHEESE—Best Oregon is worth 18@20 cts per lb; the demand is very fair and fully up to the supply

BACON—The market is very fully supplied with Oregon cured, which is not in active demand at 11@12½c ₰ lb for sides, 13@15c for shoulders, 12½@15c for hams. There are at a low estimate 125,000 pounds in store here.

LARD—The market is dull at 10@11c ₰ lb in kegs, and 11@13 in tins. Demand dull, shippers finding very slow sales in San Francisco.

POULTRY—The supply during the past few days has been largely increased, and prices are accordingly low. Jobbers sell at 25 cents per dozen, and shippers refuse to pay over 20 cents.

HIDES—Business is fair, and prices steady at former quotations.

WOOL—The clip for the coming season promises to be large and prices fairly remunerative to growers But little of last year's product is on hand. Quotations are given at 27@35 cts per pound.

Who's to be Editor of the Tribune?

I says Schuyler Colfax
That my title pen doth show fax,
It's corn slaughter like a jack axe
I'm the man to deal in coil facts
For ten thousand—green or gold backs,
I am to be said Editor

Who's to be Editor of the Tribune?

I says Georgine William Curtis'
What I'm able to assert is
That as for as rebel dirt is Concerned all clear as shirt is
I'm the man. And, verbis,
For shares, cash or seven thirties,
My pen that now inert is
I'll dip in aqua fortis,
Since I'm to be that Editor.

Who's to be Editor of the Tribune?

I, says Whitelaw Reid
On, great Pegasus, my steed,
I charge the false Tweed
Of all his filthy breed,
That with a foul-like greed
On our credit's corpse did feed,
The metropolis I freed.
Of Reform I took the lead—
To the West, with ardent speed
Hent my way. And in the hour of need,
In Cincinnati sowed the seed
Of a movement that decreed
Corruption's death. Alas! the reed—
Oh weaker still!—the seed—
We leaned on, broke—indeed
This time was pea', I rede,
For "Reformed" it can be succeed
Now I promised naught. I'm kept
Up to honor's pitch. I'll bleed
Before I'll ever draw a bead
In monopoly's defense. Give heed
To my words. On which base Whitelaw Reid
Is content to be that Editor.

Who's to be Editor of the Tribune?

I, says poster Blaine
Born Republican, I fain—
I trust do scorn to feign
Pruth; in the forum or in fane—
Would fight, and fight again
Where long, with might, and main
I've helped to pile the slain
On Democratic fields cold rain
Of speech and ink, when rebel reign
Seemed imminent, and men gave rein
To coward impulses, and the stain
Of shallow fear wrought bane
In Northern hearts. This brain
Did never yet refrain.
This heart did ne'er complain,
This hand did ne'er abstain
To think, feel, work—unheeding whether gain
Might crown my toil and pain
If I only could raise Cain
With that lookee gang. No grain
Of self doth urge this suit. The strain
Of haughty song doth drain
The deep foundations of my modesty O deign
To scan my motive justly Ah, waning sun, set fair! And rise on Blaine
So I may be that Editor

Who's to be Editor of the Tribune?

I, says Mark Twain—
I'm not a native in Spain;
I'm the man for the place, though I cannot explain
Why, for the reason that Blaine
The resemblee Radical Rep from Chili Maine—
O, bothering, troublesome, itching chin Blaine—
Has used all the nice words except vile and insane
That happily rhyme with Yours Truly, Mark Twain.
So I offer no plea—merely pray that the seine
That is dragging for editors the whole lucky pain
May miss all the whales and catch this sardine—*
For I yearn to be that Editor.

Thank God there's another left—boo, Francis Train!

A Sight of Carlyle.

I had imagined that the next best thing to seeing England would be to see Scotland; but as this latter pleasure was denied me, certainly the next best thing was seeing Scotland's greatest son. Carlyle has been so constantly and perhaps justly represented as a stormy and wrathful person, brewing bitter denunciation upon America and Americans, that I cannot forbear to mention the sweet and genial mood in which we found him—a gentle and affectionate grandfather, with his delicious Scotch brogue and rich melodious talk, overflowing with reminiscences of his early life, of Scott and Goethe, and Edinburgh, and other men and places he had known. Learning I was especially interested in birds, he discovered of the lark and nightingale and mavis, framing his remarks about them in some episode of his personal experience, and investing their songs with double charm of his description and his adventure.

"It is only geese who get plucked there," said my companion after we had left—a man who had known Carlyle intimately for many years; "silly persons who have no veneration for the great man, and come to convert him or change his convictions upon subjects to which he has devoted a lifetime of profound thought and meditation. With such persons he has no patience."

Carlyle had just returned from Scotland, where he had spent the summer. The Scotch hills and mountains, he said, had an ancient, mournful look, as if the weight of immeasurable time had settled down upon them. Their look was in Ossian—his spirit reflected theirs, and as I gazed upon the venerable man before me and noted his homely and rugged, yet profound and melancholy expression I knew that their look was upon him also, and that a greater than Ossian had been nursed amid those lonely hills. Few men in literature have felt the burden of the world, the weight of the inexorable conscience, as has Carlyle, or drawn such fresh inspiration from that source. However we may differ from him (and almost in self-defence one must differ from a man of such intense and overweening personality), it must yet be admitted that he habitually spoke out of that primitive silence and solitude in which only the heroic soul dwells. Certainly not in contemporary British literature is there another writer whose bow-string has such a twang.—"From London to New York," by John Burroughs, in February Galaxy.

Washington City revels in the prospect of an affair of honor. Col. Don Piatt, editor of the Sunday Capital, lately published the following bit of irony in his "Social Gossip," which refers to the Italian Minister:

"COUNT CORTI.—Speaking of this learned (not Corti, but the Diplomatic Corps), we may as well give an item of news that has been of considerable interest to the fashionable and political world of Washington. Word got out that the Count was about to be recalled, and no language can tell the consternation that spread through all circles at the news. What the devil one can do without his Count Corti cannot be answered. He's such a winning, handsome, fascinating little fellow that all our belles are in despair, while Secretary Fish sends for Corti every fifteen minutes to advise with him on knotty questions of international law. When the complicated matter of the Alabama was agitating the gigantic intellect of Fish he would look around at intervals and say, 'Where is my Corti?' and finding him, would say with great earnestness, 'I feel safe.' On the contrary, when the Russian Minister, who secretly opposed the negotiations, saw Corti coming down the street he would say, 'here's h—l,' and immediately call for all the works on international law and six bottles of brandy. These are only a few instances illustrative of the Count Corti influence in Washington. They are enough. The way this thing got out, we learn, was through Assistant Secretary of State Hunter or somebody else. It seems that there are certain Italians, very reputable, nice people, but not diplomats, who object strenuously to Count Corti. They say in the first place, that he is a monk, and the second place, that he is ugly as Satan, in the third place, that he has no sense, in the fourth place, that he is not nice. Now, we hold all these to be vile slanderers, as we said in the beginning of our article, but the Count has saved us the trouble by contradicting all, and singular, the above allegations, except the one charging him with being a monk. We understand that he admits being a monk, and wants to know what of that so you don't put the cy to it. All this we understand has been discussed in the Italian papers, and the conclusion at home is generally that all of the Count Corti is not Apollo Belvidere is Talleyran!, so that he is precisely the sort of man to represent sunny Italy in fogmistical America. So the Count will not be recalled, and we are glad of it, for if the Count were recalled we don't know what in the Old Scratch would become of us."

Forney's Press of the 15th, says

In the Supreme Court of Ohio the case of the State of Ohio against the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company was decided yesterday, judgment of ouster being given against defendants as to being an Ohio corporation, and judgment in favor of defendants as to being a foreign corporation and having the right to operate the road in Ohio. The effect of this decision is in favor of the State, as it brings the company under the general legislation of Ohio.

The New York Journal of Commerce accounts for the inflation in gold on this wise

"The exports of specie from all parts of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1872, amounted to $79 877,643 against $40 511 886 in 1871, but the for eign commerce of the country, shows a large balance against us, even without taking into account the freight paid to foreign ship owners. It may be found a reason for the higher premium on gold which prevails now one year ago. For two years we have exported more of the precious metals than we have imported, and consequent ly our supply of them is running down."

Construction of Vessels

Washington dispatches of a recent date furnished the intelligence that the House Committee has agreed to report favorably a bill providing for the construction of several vessels with an aggregate measurement of 30,000 tons. The bill provides that one-fifth of the number shall go on the Pacific, one fifth on the Gulf, and three fifths on the Atlantic coast, the builder to receive bounties as follows On wooden ships, $12 a ton each year for five years; on iron ships $10 a ton for the same period. The only requirement is that those vessels shall c nstitute certain lines of transportation for the same period.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The week now under review has been one of more than usual quiet, notwithstanding the fact that we have had several arrivals of vessels to load The exporters and producers, however, are apparently coming nearer together, and it is thought that another week will witness a revival in transactions. The quotations during the past few days have been steady at $1 65 per cental, which shippers will not go beyond, though mill lots have offered $1 70 for round lots of choice This offer was refused, though the same lot was held at only 2c on the bushel higher. From information obtained on the outside, we are led to believe that the exporters have command nearly or quite enough to complete the cargoes of the Barracouta, Victoria Cross Sarah Scott, Roswell Sprague and Bloomo, now in port, and that the Penang in the river and due here, will require the purchase of but one cargo. This will be but a small quantity compared with the gross amount yet in the country, and cannot very extensively affect the market. There is a large amount now coming to the water by rail and boats to find the vessels here. The receipts to-day have been unusually heavy.

FLOUR—The stock on hand is hardly so large as last week, owing to the shipments made, but any active demand, except for local consumption, is out of the question. Mills will run full time as markets shrink and the high freights prevailing at present We quote the market steady at $4 per bbl for outside and country brands, and $5 50 for standard brands of extra. The local demand is only fair.

OATS—The market is rather duller than it was last week, with a growing decline in both the receipts and demand Shipments during the week have been small, and the supply on hand is about the average We quote at 60 cents per bushel sacked as jobbers' paying prices.

FEED—The market is in rather better supply than at last advices, but rates are without any important change We quote the market firm at $16@19 per ton for bran, $25 50@30 for shorts, and $30@32 50 for chops, middlings, etc. The receipts have very possibly been heavy, as some of the mills, which was lightdue during the excitement in Wheat, have begun to grind greater quantities.

BARLEY—The market is barren of offers except for local breweries, and prices have ruled quite steady during the entire season. Quotations are given nominally at $1 40@1 50 per 100 lbs.

HAY—We note large receipts with a consequential tendency downward in prices. The demand is lessened owing to the nearness of spring, so that we now have quite a large supply in the market. Good Baled Timothy is quotable on the wharf in quotable dull at $10 to 18 per ton. Wild is almost unsaleable. Quoted at $8 to 10 per ton.

POTATOES—The supply is still large the receipts for the past ten days having been considerably in excess of the demand; Prices are dull at 35c to 40c per bushel. Choice upland only command the latter figure from wagons, while inferior sorts are dull at the former figure.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—The market is tolerably well supplied by one or two of our State mills, and imports Quotations are steady at 6½c per lb, in ten pound sacks, and 5½c per pound in fifty pound sacks.

GRAHAM FLOUR—The jobbing rate is uniform with that of extra of standard brands of flour, which is quotable at $5 per bbl, or $2 50 bu.

OAT-MEAL—We have no change to note. The market is firm at our former quotations of $5 50 to 6 per 100 pounds.

CORN MEAL—There is but little demand except for local consumption, and prices have weakened. We quote at from $3 25 to $3 50 per 100 lbs.

HOMINY—Quotations remain at $5 per 100 lbs. with a fair supply

OILCAKE MEAL—Jobbing price is $40 per ton; buying price $35 and $45 selling. The supply is short. The Pioneer Oil Mills have shut down for lack of material and orders have been sent below for small lots.

APPLES—We note a fair demand and firm prices. Shippers pay from 75c to 90c per box for choice, while dealers buy from wagons miscellaneous lots at 50c to 60, the latter without boxes.

ONIONS—The demand is fair while the supply in hands is somewhat diminished. Quotations are given at 2 to 2½ cts. per pound Considerable shipments have been made during the week.

BUTTER—Continued full receipts of common country, and a flat market in San Francisco keep prices here down to a very low figure, and we quote dealers paying prices for solid at 25@22 cts per pound; rolls, 14@22 cts. and 20@22c per pound for tubs for table use is supplied at about 40 cents per pound.

CHEESE—Best Oregon is worth 18@20 cts per lb; the demand is very fair and fully up to the supply

BACON—The market is very fully supplied with Oregon cured, which is not in active demand at 11½@12c lb for sides; 11½c for shoulders; 13¼@15c for hams. There are at a low estimate 125,000 pounds in store here.

LARD—The market is dull at 10c@11c lb in kegs, and 11@12 in tins. Demand dull, shippers finding very slow returns in San Francisco.

HOPS—The supply during the past few days has been largely increased, and prices are accordingly low. Jobbers sell at 25 cents per dozen, and shippers refuse to pay over 20 cents.

HIDES—Business is fair and prices steady at former quotations

WOOL—The clip for the coming season promises to be large and prices fairly remunerative to growers But little of that year's product is on hand Quotations are given at 22@25 cts per pound.

GIRARD'S SECRET—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age: "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the probable reward which I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in all times as well as the dullest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, or by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales than I otherwise would have had."
